DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 26-28 and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mangerson (6,559,827).

Mangerson discloses a plurality of light sources, a diffusion plate arranged above the light sources, an optical shutter device divided into n number of regions and driven in synchronization with the light sources (figs 8 and 9, cols. 7-8 lines 56-67 and 1-15 respectively); a liquid crystal display panel above the backlight unit (114). Mangerson does not specifically recite the light sources arranged on a substrate. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to arrange the light sources of Mangerson on a substrate since a substrate such as PCB would provide a electrical connecting means and controlling means for the light sources. With regards the light sources being LED lamps, the examiner takes Official Notice that the use of LEDs is old and well known in the illumination art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute an LED for the light source in the system of Mangerson. One would have been motivated since LEDs are recognized in the illumination art to have many desirable advantages, including reduced size, high efficiency, low power consumption, long life, resistance to vibrations, and low heat production, over other light sources.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-25,29-36 allowed.
6. Claim 38 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art cited of record does not teach the following structural combination: a main light guide plate defined into an n number of regions, a plurality of auxiliary light guide plates arranged below edge portions of the main light guide plate, first and second reflection plates arranged below the main light guide plate and the auxiliary light guide plate; a plurality of light source parts arranged at a predetermined interval at both sides of the first to nth light guide plates;.
